Season's Greetings

Another Christmas is just around the corner and another year is coming to a close. It is a good time for reflection and hope for the future. This time of year brings many emotions to many people, good and bad. The joy that we feel when we are able to spend time with loved ones we have been missing and the sadness we can sometimes feel when we can't be with those we love or those we have lost... it is a good time of year to remember that no matter what we find (or don't find) under our trees on Christmas Day, it is important to be thankful.

Anytime I feel lacking I think of those less fortunate, in other nations and in Canada, who live with so much less and have so little to look forward to - I am fortunate to have such freedom and comfort.

This Christmas, as I watch my daughters eyes wide with excitement and anticipation, I long to give her everything her heart desires, but I know that the true gift of the season is spending quality time with her, playing dollies or just being silly and sharing innocent giggles. It is not the quantity of what we give, but the quality of the time we share with our loved ones. The joy of Christmas is the gift of giving, not in anticipation of receiving, but of the pure joy of sharing. It could be something as simple as little token of appreciation or a smile or kind words of encouragement and support that is most needed this time of year. Just to let others know you care is a great gift in itself. There are many people who can not afford to buy as many gifts for their loved ones as they'd like, but they should remember that what is in their hearts to give is more valuable than anything found on a store shelf. Most parents can agree that we could spend hundreds of dollars on a fancy gift, but our toddlers might find the box it came in the most fun of all.

While we are all wrapped up in our holiday plans and excitement, be kind and courteous to others who may not share the same feelings of happiness. If you are blessed, share the blessings you enjoy with others, so that their Christmas may also be a joyous and memorable occasion.

And when welcoming in 2008 with gladness, good cheer, friends and Dick Clarke's Rockin' New Years (is that still on?), please be sure you have a safe, sober ride home. Best Wishes, from me to you. - Sandi Poystila

Bi-weekly horoscope contributed by Patrick Arundell. Visit his website at www.patrickarundell.com for more great features... see below.

ARIES Mar 21st - Apr 20th

Older relatives can make for really engaging conversation. Someone who you thought was a bit of a fuddy-duddy could turn out to be the life and soul of the party. Might this even be you? But seriously, this can be an excellent time to catch up on people's situations and glean brilliant advice on yours. Look out for a sage Capricorn person.

TAURUS Apr 21st - May 21st

With Jupiter, the zodiac's most expansive planet now in your most expansive zone, and joined this week by the Sun and Mercury, last minute travel or holiday plans can take shape for the winter break. If you love action, some time on the ski slopes can appeal, if you love the sun, flopped out on a beach topping up your vitamin D, will be fab.

GEMINI May 22nd - Jun 21st

Someone's generosity can astound. And if you're someone who goes into Christmas with low expectations, the greater the thrill. There could also be a happy announcement over the holiday and it could be an engagement. This can also be a time when love heats up to another level. A hot clinch under the mistletoe is a definite possibility.

CANCER Jun 22nd - Jul 23rd

This Christmas can not only see you pulling a cracker or two, but also pulling love interest your way. Suddenly your romantic prospects are heightened by the magical alliance of the Sun, Mercury and Jupiter. Some fruity, flirty chitchat is certain to ensue. And the more you can connect to folk the happier you'll feel. Link up where possible.

LEO Jul 24th - Aug 23rd

You often provide the hardworking background support that makes everyone else's Christmas a success. And this can be true again this year. But do you know, this time, you'll probably delight in the fact. Fussing over favourite aunts and uncles, even pets and making sure their every need is sated will be right up your personal Stellar Street.

VIRGO Aug 24th - Sep 23rd

You usually perk up just before Christmas time but this year you have an added bonus in the form of sparkling Jupiter. This is going to give you even more Joie de vive and greater than ever festive appreciation. Partying with pals or the family, having fun with the kids, are all going to see you on the very best of form. Dive into a vat of bubbly joy.

LIBRA Sep 24th - Oct 23rd

A marvellous family reunion may not seem such a surprise at this time of year, but then Christmas isn't always an easy time for loved ones to gather. Yet there can be a special closeness and resonance by being with your favourite people. There can even be a new start in a tie within your clan that has struggled. Better days lay ahead.

SCORPIO Oct 24th - Nov 22nd

Rarely will you have been as chatty as this Christmas time, and folk can seem more pleased to see you than usual, and laughter can be very much the order of the day. When it comes to charades, quizzes and all those classic board games, you can be at the heart of it and have a lot of fun in the process. Expect also to spend more time with neighbours.

SAGITTARIUS Nov 23rd - Dec 21st

With your ruler Jupiter now in your sector of life's goodies, there can be times this year when your eyes are bigger than your belly! Anything remotely luscious will prove very hard to resist. Love? There can be a greater closeness and sensuality. Solo? You could find yourself in a warming embrace with a gentle, but kindly Capricorn.

CAPRICORN Dec 22nd - Jan 20th

Not only do the Sun and Mercury storm into your sign, triggering a revival in confidence and energy, they immediately embrace the charms of bubbly Jupiter, which is with you, full-time, for 2008. This can give you more pizzazz and also add a larger than life vibe to your persona. When it comes to the frivolities you'll be leading the way.

AQUARIUS Jan 21st - Feb 19th

The more sentimental and kindly side of Christmas time can appeal. This can see you taking in waifs and strays for dinner on the big day or making a special effort with your favourite causes and charities. As much as you'll love to give and receive it can be the more spiritual side of things that attracts. Try to get snucked-up by a roaring log fire.

PISCES Feb 20th - Mar 20th

Work and life demands have been particularly heavy, and you may not have had the chance to enter into the seasonal spirit as much as you'd have liked. Now, not only are the Christmas lights switched on, so can your enthusiasm be. Getting together with friends and loved ones can inspire. You can feel much more hopeful about the future.
